Good interior and exterior condition overall. The car has been garage kept and run only a few miles per year. It runs and drives well but will need work on the power brakes and new tires to be driven safely on a regular basis. The AC was working as recently as a year ago but is no longer blowing cold. As you can see from the pics, this car is still in very good condition for the age and won't require a lot of restoration for someone that has the time to do it and a passion for big Mopars like this one.
